Dear John,

WPFW did not call me.

The time you gave me was noon today,

As best I could tell, they had vocals on then.

I continue to get letters thanking me for writing Case Open.

Day before yesterday one was from an executive of a major league baseball ~~xxxx~~ team.

Whatever else they say, all these do thank me for doing it, and "all" is exceptional among the many letters I have gotten from the other books.

From someone who has a source inside Random House I'm told that Bob Loomis is considerable disturbed about Case Open and by his inability to do a thing about it.

He has been seen walking through their halls with a copy in his hands and muttering about it.

And not a peep here from Posner, Random House or anyone speaking for them.

Sincerely,

Harold
